How we meet together

This is a space for everyone, whatever language you speak, however long you've been here.
Este es un espacio para todos · 這是每個人的空間

Speak your language

Use whatever language feels most natural. Each table has someone who can bridge the conversation.

We interpret together

A bilingual neighbor at your table helps translate, idea for idea, not word for word.

Every question gets answered

We track every question. If we can't answer today, it's on the list for next meeting, in every language.

Small groups first

Most discussions start at your table. Share in your language, then we bring ideas to the whole room.

What families share about needs and offers is confidential. Hold that trust carefully.
